

Intergenerational Climate justice and Climate Biodiversity Conference

Young Environmentalists 2023, All Ireland winners Aisling O Sullivan, Toby Tangney, Ciara Worley, and Adam Hayes have been invited to speak at the Cork Conference on Intergenerational Climate justice on Thursday 26th October 2023.

This conference takes place online via zoom and will run between 9am and 1pm on the day.

The purpose of the conference is to deepen the public's understanding of the climate crisis as a matter of intergenerational justice, and how the climate crisis is related to the biodiversity crisis.

This is an excellent opportunity for the students to participate in such an event. Experts in various areas of environmental issues will be in attendance and contributing to the discussion, including elders from two African countries discussing how climate change is impacting their part of the world.

It also affords our students a forum to showcase their achievements in being crowned All-Ireland Young Environmentalists 2023. These young people are excellent ambassadors for Glanmire Community College.

The school has registered the current 23/24 Green Schools committee, which comprises of 40 students, to attend the conference. It will take place in school. Refreshments will be available to attendees during the morning.
