Las Ramblas, Barcelona's most famous street is both a tourist magnet and a window into Catalan culture, with cultural centres, theatres and architecturally intriguing buildings lining its sides. Set between narrow traffic lanes and flanked by plane trees, the middle of La Rambla is a broad pedestrian boulevard, crowded every day until the small hours with a wide cross section of society. A stroll will enchant you with souvenir hawkers, buskers, pavement artists, mimes and living statues all part of the ever-changing street scene.

It takes its name from a seasonal stream (raml in Arabic) that once ran here. Unofficially, La Rambla is divided into five sections, which explains why many know it as Las Ramblas.

The RCDE tour offers the chance to revisit the magical moments of our past, discover its secrets and understand the history of a club with plenty of unforgettable moments lived during the last 121 years.

During the tour we will wander around the Stadium facilities and we will show you the most unique areas. Have you ever imagined how it will feel to be the team's coach? Speaking in a press conference? Or visiting the first team dressing room? Beyond a doubt, you will live an experience that will move you closer to the world of Spanish football. What's more, you will be able to imagine what a player from the first team feels before stepping on the field!

MOMENTS OF OUR HISTORY

Over the course of the tour we will also visit the memorable club's historical room. The room, named after Ricardo Zamora, is the perfect scenario to learn about RCDE's history. There you could find the most important assortment of cups, trophies, pictures and other meaningful objects the club has gathered from the very beginning to the present. The historical room pays tribute to all the successful football events of our history, but so too is a place for honouring the memory of other sport sections that have previously been part of the club but no longer exist. Further to this, nearby to this room we will find the corridor that links the dressing room with the mixed zone where you could find an exhibition with most of the jerseys that have been worn by the first team from 1900 to the present year.
